

THE GIRL WHO LATELY GOT A VERDICT FOR BREACH OF PROMISE FROM MR. FENKE.

Miss Lizzie Klem of 563 Baltic street made an application to the Brooklyn Charities Commissioners last week for the commitment of her sister Dora to the Flatbush Asylum for the Insane. Some time ago Miss Dora Klem sued William Fenke for breach of promise of marriage. She appeared perfectly rational when her case was in court. She obtained a judgment in her favor amounting to $5,000. By direction of the Charities Commissioners the girl was examined lately by Drs. Burns and Stone, who submitted certificates to Judge Clement in the City Court yesterday that she was insane. In view of all the acts in the case Judge Clement refused to commit the girl to the asylum until she could see and question her, and he issued an order to have her brought into court some time this week.

Dr. Stone says that the girl gives evidence of the disordered state of her brain by sitting in her room in her nightgown, by calling herself Eve and her room the Garden of Eden, and by asserting that her husband is in Adam and her father is George Washington.

She has still an action for assault pending against Fenke, who is a well-known maker.

FIVE CELESTIAL DEFENDANTS.

There will be Chicksen Butcher Next Saturday Over One of the Fog's Notes.

Judge McAdam peered over his spectacles at a mixed assembly in the City Court yesterday. There were fifty Chinamen and nearly fifty Caucasians. Two Mongolians of amiable proportions sat in the unused jury box. There were Chinamen with pigtailed and without pigtailed, in the costumes of China and America. Among the throng were Fung Wing, Fung Gow, Fung Fong, Wing Mon, Goh Lin, Gab Row, Kim Fong, Mei Joo, and Ah Wah.

In front of the Judge were five defendants. Chu Fong, Mon Lee, Hong Yung, Chu John, and Fong Hip, whom Seth R. Johnson is suing for a balance of $1,801.04 upon a promissory note, dated Nov. 22, 1889. The note was signed with the name of Mansington & Co. of 813 Broadway and endorsed by Quong Hong Luong.

Two defendants also protested that, although the note was signed by them, they had never authorized its execution, and they contended that it was the fruit of a conspiracy between Mr. Johnson and Chu Fong, the Chinese dupe.

John Brownell and Col. Edward James appeared for the plaintiffs, and William C. Beecher and ex-Judge Morgan for the defendants. The only Chinaman, Avon, was Mook Que, and the Bible was good enough for him. He had been converted to Christianity and required no further. He was a member of the firm for a time and gave its history while he was connected therewith.

The hearing was adjourned until next Saturday. Judge McAdam notified witnesses that they must come prepared with their own poultry to eat on.
